Bright Lights And Salt Shakers

Bill Brinkworth

Christian, do not be a copycat, being like everyone else. Be what God wants you to be:

Be a light, and a bright testimony for God!

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Mat. 5:16

Be salt! Salt is a seasoning that improves the taste of a normally bland food and preserves it to last longer. An obedient Christian can be "salt." His example can change the sinful trend of this world, and preserve it a little longer from God's wrath and the consequences of sin.

"Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men." Matthew 5:13

Do What God Would Have You Do

Harry Todd

*When you know you are doing
What God would have you do,
Don't let anything or anybody
Be a hindrance to you.*

*Some will not understand,
And say you're a little odd,
But go your way rejoicing,
That you're in the will of God.*

*With temptations that seem good,
Satan will fill your mind each day,
Submit to God, resist the devil,
And he will flee away.*

*God must be first in your life
At the expense of a friend or two,
But you can have peace of mind,
Doing what God would have
you do.*

*Christian, set your affections
above,
Let Jesus live through you,
And you'll never regret,
Doing what God would have
you do.*

When God's Anger Was Hot

Bill Brinkworth

The image many people have of God is not biblical. They envision the creator of the world as a little, gray-haired, old man that walks around with an eternal smile, tolerating sin, and never getting mad. They have no idea the true temperament of the Almighty. There are things that do anger God, and they usually involve sin.

Accounts in Judges 2 illustrate one of the sins that drew God's wrath. The people of Israel had just lost their God-chosen leader, Joshua. After he had died, the spiritual condition of Israel worsened. It could have been prevented, if they had only obeyed God. He said to go into the lands that were given to them and kill the heathen occupants of the land: men, women, and children.

When God's Anger ...

"Kill everyone?" Perhaps the Israelites were queasy about obeying that order, but God knows best. His orders, no matter what we think, still needed to be obeyed. Perhaps they came up with the same excuses the love-everyone religionists of today come up with: "We can all get along together as brothers," or "We will tolerate all faiths" Whatever the reasons, they did not obey God.

Three times in Judges 2 and 3, God was "hot against Israel." Why? He was angry with His people because:

They lived amongst the ungodly. They were to destroy the enemy; so that they would not be tempted to take on the ways of those that were not followers of the one true God. They did not obey God's commandment, and soon were doing exactly what God did not want them to do. They lived amongst their enemies and were soon worshipping false gods. False religion got hold of them.

All through the Bible, God's people are told to be separated from the worldly crowd. Today, just a "little" fellowship or contact with the world is enough to pull a Christian in the wrong direction; just as it happened to Israel.

Watch enough television, and you will be de-sensitized to the severity of adultery, disobedience, lawlessness, thievery, and other sins. Hang around with the ungodly, and swearing, lying, cheating, and other sins will not bother you as much as they first did. Doing what you want, rather than what God wants, will give you the same misery and unhappiness the unsaved have.

The ungodly were thorns in their side (Judges 22:43). They were a constant nagging irritation that may even be bothering them to this day; as in the Muslim problem that is plaguing their nation and is threatening their lands.

They worshipped like the ungodly. One of the reasons God wanted the ungodly killed was so that their idolatrous ways would stop. Since the ungodly were alive, their idolatry grew and soon spread to God's people. Israel's allegiance to God diminished as they followed the heathen religions. They served Baalim (Judges 2:11), Baal, and Ashtaroth (Judges 2:13)

They could not break the habit of living the ungodly lifestyle. God gave them good judges to rule over them. When the leaders died, they quickly went back to living a lifestyle that was not pleasing to God.

"And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel." — Jud. 2:14.

They married the heathen (Jud. 3:5).

Finally, God's toleration and grace ended. To turn them back to Himself, God:

- ✦ Delivered them into the hands of the spoilers. They lost everything to the hands of thieves (Jud. 2:14).
- ✦ Was no longer blessing nor protecting them. Whatever they did, including battle, was purposely foiled by God (Jud. 2:15).
- ✦ Would not help them drive out their enemies (Jud. 2:21).

Today, because there is little separation from the unsaved, "Christianity" has been watered down. More and more unbiblical practices are prevailing. The worship of Allah in Islam is being tolerated; even though repeatedly the religion has proved itself unbiblical and even intolerant of any other religion, including Christianity. Satanic worship is increasing. Religions worshipping many false gods, such as Hinduism, are being tolerated. Mocking of the one, true God and His followers is permitted. Coexisting with false religions is watering-down and weakening the worship God expects of us.

Surely, as "... the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel" (Jud. 2:14), God is angry at those not separating from practices and lifestyles God abhors.

No, I am not saying to kill the ungodly. That commandment was to Israel in a much different time. It is not God's commandment to us. We live in the world, but we do not have to voluntarily act as the world does. We can and must separate from the world and obey God. As children of God, we are on the winning side and do not have to appear, sound like, think, or behave as if we were on the losing side.

"Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you," II Corinthians 6:17.

As evil as Israel's continuous sin was, God forgave them time and time again. He bailed them out of their troubles (Jud. 2:18, 3:15). As wicked as we can be, God gives us opportunity after opportunity to change our ways. He is merciful. He certainly is a second-chance God.

No matter what you have done, He will forgive you. If you fail, He will help you again. Separate from the activities God hates, or face the consequences of an angry God, as did Israel.

"A Sunday school teacher once asked her class, "How is the will of God done in heaven?"

One child answered, "Cheerfully."

Another, "By everybody."

A third, "All the time."

But the best answer was, "It is done without asking any questions." — D. L. Moody

Obedience to God is the most infallible evidence of sincere and supreme love for him. — Emmons
